

Zeus's Pop Up Show

For his first solo show at Nancy Victor, Zeus presents an exhibition of new works which explore urban compositions juxtaposing street art with architecture. This eclectic mix of 3D and wall based sculpture illustrate a combination of contemporary fine art and graffiti techniques, producing an exciting array of innovative works.

Each sculpture encompasses light and shadow presenting a unique transposable outcome dependant on the positioning and light source. The experiment to present an unfixed shadow is essential to these architectural forms as they play upon the persona of a city and it's transitioning of time.

Within the realms of architecture, there is a need to keep up with society, social movements and technology. Similar to graffiti techniques and trends, these modifications are redefining the art form and must not be allowed to fade into the penumbra.
